Liquidation of Wheat Ceases as Suddenly a it Began and the Prospect Reported of Corn Leads the Movement Upward and Hit Hard by Receipts-Oats Higher.

Chicago Jan 30 -- Encouraged by the hope of a speedy relief of the present strained financial conditon, board of trade speculators closed their heavy liquidation and all the grain markets closed higher. May wheat gained 1/2 cent: May corn % cent and May oats % cent. Provisions finished with but lit

Wheat got a weak start and for a few minutes it looked as if there might be a repettion of yesterday's unloading of the bull holdings. Long wheat did not come out, however. The Liverpool market was a shade steadler at ¼ pense dvance, but on the other hand the orthwestern receipts for the day were heavier than they were on the correspending day last year and the Berlin market was one mark lower. An impression that congress would have to do something in the line with the presi dent's recommendation was largely helpful. The total receipts at primary markets were only 168,000 bushels compared with 231,000 bushels a week are and 237,600 bushels a year ago. The advices received here from St. Louis, Kansas City, Detroit and other markets of less importance were that country millers were drawing liberally from the stocks at those places. It was reported also that very much heavier purchases for export were made yesterday at the seaboard than had been given out, the New York takings, it was said, having amounted to 5,249,000 bushels. At Chi-cago 120 car loads of No. 2 red was re-ported to have been sold late yesterday afternoon for rail shipment to the seaboard. When later in the day it was wired from New York that Secretary Carlisle was about to arrange for the placing of $100,000,000 of bonds at once to relieve the present condition of the treasury, the market became firm and treasury, the market became firm and sold up to 53% cents for May about an hour from the close. The opening price was from 52% to 52% cents as against 52% cents bid at the close yesterday. It advanced to 53 cents, sold off again to 52% cents, improved to 53% cents, as alreay mentioned, and was quiet but steady at 53% cents at the close steady at 53% cents at the close.

Coin was weak for a few minutes at the start due to the siump in wheat. The former was the first to show a re-turn of confidence and ruled firm all day after the first half hour of the session. The opening price of May was very irregular, there being sales simulaneously at 43% cents and 43% cents. principally however at the lower que tation. It gradually hardened unt just as the market was closing, 44641% cents was paid. It closed with 44 cents as the general trading price. The re-ceipts were light today and estimates small for tomorrow. The general im-pression among the pit traders was that liquidation by country holders had ceased and that the chances in the wer future were in favor of buying coft spots. Outs started firmer and remained so during the entire session excepting at one time jus after the opening when the price fell 's cent under. The market closed with the high prices prevailing siness throughout was active. parties who yesterday put forth their best efforts to raid the market were prominent today for free buying. The general buying was also good and notwithstanding the fact that commis-sion houses continued to pour in coun-try long stuff, the market was strongly held. Sympathy with the neighboring cereals was greatly influential in creating some firmness. May started at from 28% cents to 28% cents, sold whre it closed. The provision market was overwhelm ed at the beginning by the news from the yards. Instead of 35,000 as the probable receipts, 43,000 was given was given as the day' run and 36,000 as the probable receipts for tomorrow. The opening prices for pork, lard and ribs were at from 5 to 19 cents below the closing prices of the day before bu the rates made at the beginning wer at the bottom or nearly so, of the day' range. Packers bought at the declin and took in the course of day enoug to cause a recovery of about all the early losses. In the end pork and lar compared with the closing prices yester day was unchanged and ribs 21/2 cent

Hog Market Gone to Sticks. Chicago, Jan. 30.—The cattle market was full and very weak in spite of small supplies. So restricted is the demand that it has been found impossible to keep the yards cleared without the serious sacrifice of prices. While there was no radical change today in any grade of cattle, the general market is 15635 cents lower than at the close of last week. The highest price paid on Monday was $5.15, and $5.05 was the top yesterday, while it is doubtful that anything would have found a buyer today at more than $5.00. From $5.50 to $4.50 bought the bulk of the steers, and $2.0063.00 were popular prices for cows and bulls. The range of quotations for common to choice steers was $5.0065.00, and $2.0003.00 were popular prices for cows and bulls. The range of quotations for common to choice steers was $3.0063.00, and for cows and bulls from $1.25 to $3.25.

The hog market went to pieces today. The doubling up in the receipts and yesterday's break in provisions demoralized buyers and sellers alike and within an hour after the opening of business prices had fallen 20025 cents. The best heavy hogs went down to $4.2064.25 and choice assorted lights receided to $3.9064.00. Common light and rough mixed sold around $3.75 and the bulk of the sales was at $3.8564.20.

In sheep, yesterday's estimate was too low by the early half. The market was slow from the start and sales almost without exception were at lower prices. The tange of quotations for common to extra sheep was $2.5064.00 though most of the trading was at $2.5063.75. Lambs were in demand at $3.2564.55, with sales principally at $4.0064.25.

Receipts—Cattle, 10,000; calves, 300; hogs, 44.000; sheep, 15,000.

Omaha, Jan. 39.—Cattle—Receipts, 4,600 Cow stuff of all grades commanded verrearly steady prices, the supply being so small. Veal valves ruled firm with buils, stags, etc., generally easier. There was a very sluggish trade in stocker and feeders with prices generally shadillower.

Vhisky Trust, Bond Issue and Gold Drain Imparts Strength-Distilling Stock Well Criticised-Carlisle Expected to Confer With Bankers-Matter of Separate Gold

New York, Jan. 30 .- The fact of th appointment of receivers for the disilling and Cattle Feeding company was known to a few after the close of business yesterday, became public property this morning through the medium of the newspapers and induced selling of stock but only to a moderate degree, less than 15,000 shares having been dealt in up to noon and only about 4,000 shares during the rest of the day. On the early selling the stock declined

1/2 per cent to 7% per cent, but subsequently recovered the full loss, reactng to 8 per cent and by noon rallying to 81/4 per cent. Durnig the afternoon the shares fluctuated between $40 per cent and 8% per cent closing at the lower figure, being only 1/4 per cent down on the day. Severe criticisms were passed by the street upon the ac-tion of President Greenhut in endeav-oring to forestall the stockholders proplies. So restricted is the demand that | tective committee in its investigation of the company's affairs and Judge Grosscup did not escape condemnation for having made the appointment out of court, thereby affording an opportunity for the withholding of the news from the public for about thirty-six hours. The stock was well supported under the circumstances, and the bears were detered by this fact from putting out too many short lines. There will out too many short lines. There will out too many short lines. There will be an active legal fight made by the protective committee for the removal of the receivers. The committee claim to have proxies for a large majority of the capital stock, which have been forwarded to Chicago to be used for the purposes of the committee at the an unal meeting and possibly in court. nual meeting and possibly in court proceedings. The national financial situation was a source of much anxiety to the operators on the stock exchange and the uncertainty undoubtedly restricted the transactions and unsettled the speculation. The announcement that Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle was coming to New York to confer with bankers was made early in the day and caused discussion as to whether his mission was to preserve whether his mission was to prepare the way for a bond issue or to take up the gold shipment question. Spb-sequently it was learned from the Assequency it was learned from the Associated Press dispatches that Mr. Carlisle was not coming but that Assistant Secretary Curtis was on his way to this city and it was at once accepted as a fact that he was the bearer of a commission to treat for the floating of the new bonds which rumor had it were to be 4 per cents. The withdrawal. were to be 4 per cents. The withdrawal of gold from the subtreasury was $3,600,000, all of which it is said will go forward on Saturday next. Considera ble discussion was created by the Nat-tional bank of Commerce's resolution calling on the clearing house association to rescind its rule against the opening of special gold accounts by the banks. All the officials of other banks who would speak on the subject conwho would speak on the subject con-demned the proposition as putting gold in a preferred class of money and all agreed that if the clearing house should grant the request (of which there is believed to be no possibility) the drain on the treasury gold would be heavier than it is now. All of these circumstances tended to an irregular stock market and during the greater part of the day the general list fluctua-ted frequently between strength and weakness, but toward the close there

Proper Foods in Moderation an Aid to Best and Sleep. The old tradition that to eat anything just before going to bed was sure to produce indigestion and render sleep impossible is now happily ex-ploded. It is not good, as a matter of fact, to go to bed with the stomach so loaded that the undigested food should render one restless, but something of a light, palatable nature in the stomach is one of the bests aids to quietude and rest in bed. The process of digestion goes on in sleep with as much regularity as when one is taking violent exercis to aid it, and so something in the stomach is a very desirable condition for the night's rest. Some physicians have declared, indeed, that a good deal of the prevalent insomnia is the result of an unconscious craving of the stomach for food in persons who have been unduly frightened by the opinion that they must not eat before going to bed or who have, like many nervous women, been keeping themselves in a state of semi-starvation.

Nothing is more agreeable on retir ing for the night than to take a bowl of hot broth, like oat meal gruel or elam soup. It is a positive aid to nervous people, and induces peaceful slumber. This is especially the case on cold winter nights when the stomach craves warmth as much as another part of the body. Even a glass of hot milk is grateful to the palate on such occasions, but a light, well-cooked gruel is better, and, in our climateduring the cold months of winter, should be the retiring food of every woman food at night.-N. Home-Made Curtain Something unique in a home-made window-curtain is a cream-white cheesecloth of the best quality with a border of pink and blue morning-glo ries cut from cretonne and pasted to the foundation. Some of the roses and other flowers seen in handsome chintzen also make charming decorations for inexpensive bedroom curtains. When hung against the light, they have the effect of being painted. Pretty white and gold curtains for a cottage drawing-room were made by stitching narrow gold braid to the best white cheesecloth in a large all-over curving pattern, the stitching being quickly done by the stitching-machine.-N. CIRCUMVENTING A GLACIER. An Annual Inundation is Norway to B Cured by a Canal.

Some time ago the farmers in a little valley, not far from the west coast of Norway and south of the city of Bergen, appealed to the government to save them from the ruin that overwhelms them every few years through the ab-normal rise of their river. About one hundred people live in this fertile vale, and above their small farms, skirting the river edge, tower some of the wildest and grandest of Norway's mountains. The people are dependent upon the produce of their farms, and they would be prosperous and content if it replied, "you could not remain here." were not for one danger that threatens six years has completely swept away their crops, roads and bridges. The cause of their misfortune is worth describing, for the phenomenon that suddenly swells their little river to a raging torrent, fifty feet above its normal height, is seldom seen in any part of the world. One of the largest inlets in this deeply indented coast is the Hardanger flord. Its narrow valley pushes far inland among the mountains, and out of one of the branches at its head opens the picturesque and well-tilled Simodal valley, the scene of these catastrophes. The head of this narrow valley consist of a precipitous cliff over whose edges tumbles one of the finest of Norway's waterfalls, the great Rembesdalfos, which is worth going far to see. After making this plunge the water speeds away, a swift-flowing river, spanned by two bridges and bordered by patches of cultivation. This is a glacial river. for high above the waterfall is a glacier descending from a vast snow field on the upper mountain slopes, and the torrents that pour from under the melting ice stream become the waterfall and river. This glacier is the cause of the mischief in the valley below. stream in a main valley descending across the mouth of a side valley and damming up the drainage collected there so that it forms a lake. In ordinary years the snow whose melted waters form this lake melt slowly and the lake fills gradually until it is on a level with the surface of the glacier, when the water begins to cut a channel between the ice and the lofty hill at its side. As the channel deepens the lake is gradually drained and to damage is done in the valley below.

When, however, the summer thaw is unusually rapid the lake fills in a remarkably short time and the weight of the pent-up waters forces a channel under the glacier. It digs a large tunnel in the ice, through which the great volume of water is precipitated in a few hours upon the farm lands of the valley, destroying all the property with-in reach, and blasting every hope of the season's harvest.

The government has come to the rescue and the poor farmers are not to be driven from their homes by forces of nature which, unaided, they cannot control. A canal is to be blasted through the solid rock alongside the glacier, which will carry off the waters of the lake before they have rison to any great height. This is one of the instances in which it has been found necessary to circumvent a glacier in order to render it powerless to do mischief.

Brandreth's Pills purify and tone up a debilitated system. They are absolutely safe.

About a century and a half ago a woman who was a servant in the house of a daimyo had a little girl born to her. But it was inconvenient for her to have the child with her in the daimyo's mansion, and so she put the little one out to nurse with a woman in the neighboring village. The child grew to be very intelligent, and the foster mother, who was a heartless woman, thought she saw an opportunity to earn money through the girl's services, and determined to keep her. Accordingly, when the mother term of service expired, and she came to get back her child, the foster mother treated her claim as false, said the child was her own, and utterly refused

So at last they came before Oka, the town magistrate of Yeddo, who, after some thought, hit upon a novel plan of deciding. He placed the child between the two mothers, had each one take an arm of the child, and then or dered them to pull! He could then tell, he said, which one deserved to have the child. The foster mother, thinking only of winning, pulled with all her might, but the true mother. full of her affection for her child. couldn't bear to inflict on it such brutal pain; and she let go as soon as she felt the other woman pulling. "The child is mine!" exclaimed the foster mother, triumphantly. "Not so!" said Oka, sternly; "you are a pre-tender; this other is the true mother."

Then the false mother confessed her deception and begged for pardon. The people, when they heard of the judg-ment, were full of admiration for the penetration and sagacity of their great pagistrate. - Harper's Young People.
